Welcome!

Who is familiar with the MIT Alumni Better World Service Initiative?

What are you looking to learn about the Service Initiative today?

MITALUMNI

Better World Service Initiative

Some basics:

- Launched in the fall of 2021 following the MIT Better World Capital Campaign
- The Better World Service Initiative is managed online through a public website and a dashboard that is accessed with Infinite Connection ID
- There are 14 alumni Service Ambassadors who advise staff

The Pitch...

Right now, MIT alumni like you are volunteering their minds, hands, and hearts in service to the communities and causes that are meaningful to them. Imagine: What would happen if you could unite with other alums in service...if the MIT alumni community could become a force multiplier for good?

Join the MIT Alumni Better World Service Initiative.

Parts networking site, workspace, project aggregator, and storytelling platform, this alumni initiative, supported by the Association, connects MIT people working to make a better world through their volunteer efforts across climate and sustainability; human health; STEM education; social justice and equity; and more.

Here are three ways for you to participate right now:

- 1. Create a project
- 2. Join a project
- 3. Submit a Service Award Nomination

Share. Connect. Solve. Inspire. Sign up to be a part of the MIT Alumni Service Initiative today.

In the spirit of Mind, Hand, Heart the Alumni Association has launched a new public service initiative to help connect MIT alumni with others who are passionate about helping their communities as well as resources on starting your own volunteer project. Thank you for continuing MIT's tradition of service in your communities and throughout the world!
